

Dr Delene Heukelman

Supervisor: Dr. Heukelman

Associate Director: Department of Information Technology
Faculty of Accounting and Informatics

Tel: +27 31 3735562

E-mail: deleneh@dut.ac.za

Profile

PROFILE

Dr Heukelman received a DTECH: Information Technology from Durban University of Technology, M.Ed (Computers in Education) from Rhodes University, B.Sc. (Hons), B.Sc. (Ed) from Randse Afrikaanse Universiteit (now University of Johannesburg). She is currently the Chair of the research focus area ICT and Society. Her area of interest is Human Computer Interaction (HCI) and ICT in Education. She was the curriculum coordinator for the KZN-Colab of the IKAMVA National eSkills Institute, during which time she developed and implemented training programmes on Blackboard LMS. She has been a member of the Department of Information Technology at the Durban University of Technology for 15 years and was HOD of the department at different stages. She has received NRF funding, an AESOP staff mobility grant and has a number of publications.

Dr Heukelman is currently involved in a project with State University of New York (SUNY) whereby online international collaboration in the development and delivery of teaching material, Collaborative Online International Learning (COIL) is implemented.

Past Projects include an online training programme for Community Development Workers in ICT skills, curriculum development for an entry level qualification in IT, the Higher Certificate in Information Technology and developing a framework for assessment.

