

Prof Paul Edmund Green

ICTAS 2017 Treasurer

Deputy Dean: Faculty of Accounting and Informatics

Prof Green's research focuses on developing applicable frameworks for Universities of Technology on the evaluation of service quality using a Systems Approach; Service System Interactions at tertiary institutions; and application of Analytic Hierarchy Process for the evaluation of Service.

His international networks involve collaborative research with amongst others Czestochowa University of Technology in Poland. He serves as a reviewer of International Journals including Springer and is a member of Scientific Boards for International Conferences.

Prof Green is also the recipient of the DUT Top Junior Researcher of the Year Award (2015); one of the Top Publishers of the Durban University of Technology for 2014 and 2015, as well as the Faculty Researcher Awardee for (2015). Prof Green has published in Accredited International Journals and presented at local and international conferences. He has supervised and examined a number of postgraduate students.

His current research involves the systemic analysis of service provisioning of government institutions using complexity theory.